My Skills & Future

Investing in you

The My Skills and Future project formerly the Financial Education Partnership (FEP) is an initiative that offers free workshops in financial capability and other related topics in schools, colleges and community groups across Scotland.

The aim of the My Skills and Future project is to benefit students, teachers and the wider social and economic society as a whole. It provides direct classroom support to teachers for meeting financial education 'Curriculum for Excellence' (C4E) objectives whilst providing a high quality interactive learning experience for pupils.

The My Skills and Future project is administered and funded by the Chartered Banker Institute. It is delivered by a team of dedicated volunteers – all of whom are committed to promoting skills for tomorrow's young workforce through education.

The project is designed to assist schools in meeting their C4E experiences and outcomes by delivering FREE workshops in financial education and employability skills. Our volunteers are current bank and financial services employees who have vast experience in financial capability. Workshops have been designed and reviewed by teachers and are structured to be as interactive and engaging as possible whilst still meeting C4E outcomes. In the last year the project delivered, 145 workshops in 28 schools across Scotland. It directly supported 28 teachers by delivering financial education and employability skills workshops reaching approximately 4,350 young people.

The workshops we offer are around 30/45 minutes long and are all interactive:

Primary

Pounds & Pennies

The key focus of this workshop is for pupils to correctly identify the range of coins in circulation across Scotland and Great Britain. Pupils will demonstrate learning by combining coins and/or notes to achieve a given monetary value.

MoneyBags

The key focus of this workshop is the basic principles of earning an income and how individuals spend money on day-to-day expenses. This lesson also is a good introduction to the issues of poverty, unfairness and inequality.

Basic Budgets

The key focus of this workshop is the basic principles of personal budgeting. Students are introduced to a number of fundamental concepts pertinent to budgeting and why financial education is important to their development as young adults.

Secondary Employability Skills

CV & Job Applications

This workshop aims to teach students how to prepare a winning job application. There are a few simple rules when it comes to preparing a CV yet research shows that so many people get it wrong!

Interview Skills

The aim of this workshop is to help prepare students for an interview, for whatever trade, role, profession, college or university place they wish to go on to. Preparation is key when applying for interviews and students are taught a number of effective techniques on how to best prepare for an interview.

Financial Education

Managing Your Money

The aim of this workshop is to teach students that having enough money is less to do with how much you earn and more to do with how well you manage it. In addition to the amount that you end up earning; having enough money is affected by how you think about money and how you treat money. The workshop looks at managing your money in terms of being aware of where your money goes, the importance of saving, sensible borrowing and shopping around for the best deals.

Financial Products

This workshop aims to teach students about some of the financial products that they are all likely to encounter soon or in future, if not already. It does not speak about any specific company's products but, hopefully, will provide them with information to be able to make good financial decisions and know what to look for, and what to avoid, when shopping around for financial products.
